

CARUSO MYSTERY LACKS ONLY CLUES

Explains Old New York Sleuth
Who Worked on the Ar-stein Case.

The Old New York Police Detective, who has been resting since he solved the Arstein mystery, went to East Hampton, L. I., and looked into the mystery of the Caruso jewels. He said he was entirely satisfied with the progress of the Suffolk County detectives and the "star" men from New York private detective agencies.

"All they need is a good clue," he remarked. "They are protecting the Caruso house very well. If the thief comes back they will catch him."

The John Doe hearing will be resumed to-morrow morning, and George Fitzgerald, the Caruso chauffeur, who held in $1,000 bail on the charge of violating the Sullivan law, will have a hearing to-morrow afternoon.

MOB THREATENS ESCAPED NEGRO

Fugitive Surrounded in Dense Woods by 500 Armed Men in Maryland.

WILMINGTON, June 22.—After being surrounded in a swamp near Laurel, Del., by an armed posse of 500 men, Isaiah Fountain, condemned negro fugitive from the Eastern Md. Jail, succeeded in breaking through the net drawn by his pursuers early to-day, following an exciting chase in which bloodhounds and automobiles figured prominently. The fugitive was again cornered in a dense woods near Hebron, Md.

Fountain was convicted for an attack upon a thirteen-year-old white girl in W. Va., on April 19 and was awaiting execution when he escaped.

BRONX WANTS HOSPITAL.

Location at Highbridge Urged for New City Institution.

Borough President Henry Bruckner, backed by Dr. J. Lewis Amster, former Health Commissioner, the Bronx County Medical Society and other organizations, are confident they will succeed in getting for the Bronx the new $5,000,000 hospital recently approved by the Board of Estimates. It is likely that the new institution will be located in the Highbridge section. The Bronx Medical Society has been busy for some weeks upon the project, has taken a census of the section and its report to Dr. William O'Hanlon, superintendent of Bellevue and Allied Hospitals, will be presented to the board at its next meeting. It is likely that a resolution of the Ambulance Board will accompany the report urging that the hospital be located in the Bronx.

The new hospital is expected to accommodate 500 patients. A nurses training school will be attached to the institution.
